I'm interested in architecture, urban planning and interior designs. Architecture is aesthetically worthy by itself but it is more attractive to me that architecture forms certain context to the area around and makes ripple effects. The pictures below are Vitra design museum, Guggenheim Bilbao Museum by Frank Gehry and these are good examples. And I think 3D modeling and texturing will be helpful for designing buildings like these. Through this class, I hope to have a better understanding about architecture, urban planning and interior designs.
