3D modeling is displaying 2 dimensional image into 3 dimensional image with computer.

My major is computer science and I am also interested in design, architecture. I was thinking of a class that I could do both of them and I found this 3D modeling class. I would like to learn about this 3D modeling skills to design buildings and interior. I'm expecting for this class to be very helpful for me to choose my future career. The pictures below are the examples.

This is the picture of houses designed by 3D modeling.

3D modeling is also used to design interior of the house.
